New READING BOOK for Schools.

THE MONITORIAL READER, or a Monitor to Youth holding up to their view Models whereby to form their own Characters. By DAVID L. ADAMS, Author of Adams's New Arithmetic.

FACULTIES FROM THE PRACTICE.

THE MONITORIAL READER possesses distinctive traits. The object is to supply what is believed to be the great desideratum in our schools, a series of exercises relating to what concerns the practical matters of life, truth, integrity, honesty, industry, temperance, forethought, frugality, patient endurance of adversity, and whatever else tends to form and fix the character of youth.

We wish to impress it on the minds of those, into whose hands these exercises shall come, now in this seed time of life, what is here so abundantly incited, that Every man is emphatically the architect of his own fortune, that with themselves it lies whether they shall ever be any thing or nothing.

that a niggard capital to begin with does not weigh a whit in the balance for or against them; tht it comes into life with health strength capacity for labor, good education, a useful and respectable trade habits of industry, sobriety, punctuality, frugality, and above all, with a GOOD AND UNLIMITED

CHARACTER they have the best of all capital a moral capital the noblest of all power moral power and the most certain means of honest and honorable accumulation and fortune, and may be sure, under circumstances ordinary propitious, to rise to that competency of influence respect, and general confidence, and that honorable measure of wealth and independence, which should fully satisfy a reasonable and virtuous ambition.

EXTRACTS FROM RECOMMENDATIONS.

The influence will be found on the side of virtue, morality and religion. Occasional comments are given. Difficult or unusual words are defined.

Prose and poetry are suitably intermingled.

It is hardly to be imagined that this book should fail of popularity. It certainly would not, had it not so many competitors that have got to start of it in the race. As it its mettle is such as to give it a fair promise of ultimate success in the contest. Boston

Recorder.

Dr. Adams Having examined to some extent your Monitorial Reader, I am pleased with its plan object, and the manner in which it has been executed. It seems adapted to the intellectual and moral improvement of those for whose use it was designed. I trust it will prove to be what its author foolly anticipates.

(Rev.) Z S BARSTOW Keene

It is just such a book as our New England boys and girls will be glad to see for it indicates in a pleasing manner industry, frugality, truth, honesty, temperance, kindness, fortitude and a cheerful patriotism. The Vocabulary, at the end, and the arangement for defining words, will add to its value in the hands of a judicious teacher.

(Rev.) ABIEL A LIVERMORE, Keene

We have also recommendations from a number of individuals and periodicals, more which are Dr.

Crosby, Preceptor of the High School Nashua, J

Newton Brown, Professor of Theology, at New Hampshire. It is also adopted by the Association of School Teachers in Cheshire and Hillsborough counties, and by the School Committee of Concord.

About 800 copies have been published, and mostly disposed of.

these two bodies are in session, and the remaining part to be devoted to miscellaneous reading, poetry

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1842.

Abstract of the Report of the Land Agent of the State of Maine, 1841.

The Land Agent, Mr. Hamlin, refers to his report of March last, for an account of what he had done in relation to the civil posse.

In the month of June last, the Land Agent of Massachusetts went, in company with Mr. Hamlin, to Fort Fairfield and Kent, to make arrangements to protect the interests of the two States in that quarter. At Fort Fairfield four men were in charge of the public property and their services continued.

At the mouth of the Madawaska river the British were engaged in erecting a strong block house on the north-east side of the river, and near the St. John. Proposals had been issued by the government of New Brunswick for making a turnpike road from the Grand Falls to Madawaska river, a distance of about forty-five miles, and an agent was engaged in making contracts.

One of the Assessors of Madawaska informed Mr. Hamlin that a tax was about to be assessed upon all the inhabitants on the St. John's above Grand Falls. The Land Agent also learned that John Baker, an American citizen, living about six miles below Fort Kent, and upon land conveyed to him in 1821, by Maine and Massachusetts, had been arrested by an officer of New Brunswick, carried before two magistrates near the British Post, tried, sentenced and compelled to pay a fine of eighty dollars, for the alleged offence of harboring a British soldier who had deserted. It was not, therefore, thought advisable to reduce the possee at Fort Kent, numbering nine men. An agent was sent to Fort Kent with a special deputation in order to arrest any person belonging to a foreign government, guilty of the misdemeanor of serving precepts within the limits of Maine.

In view of these circumstances presented by Mr. Coffin and Mr. Hamlin to the respective executives of Massachusetts and Maine, a renewed call was made upon the General Government to relieve those States from the expense of the defence of the territory, and that the General Government should take possession of Forts Kent and Fairfield. The result was that in September last, two companies of U. S. Troops reached their destination at the Posts, formal possession of the Posts given, and the provisions and tools not needed, sold to them. The lots upon which the Posts are located were severally leased to the United States. The civil posse, with the exception of three men were then discharged. There is still much danger from a collision of jurisdiction between the authorities of the Province, and of the State. The two posts at Fish River, and the Madawaska River, are only twenty miles apart, each government claiming the exclusive jurisdiction of the territory between these posts.

It is recommended to open a communication from near the Little Madawaska river northerly to some point in the Madawaska settlement on the river St. John to connect the latter settlement with the lower part of the valley of the Aroostook. Also to extend Aroostook county so as to embrace all the settlements on the St. John, within our territory.

Military Road.

The importance of a good military road to Fort Kent, is strongly urged, and which is deemed necessary that we may no longer be disgraced in witnessing the arrest and imprisonment of our citizens for no other offence than that of acting under the laws of the State. The General Government having assumed the defence of the North Eastern Frontier, and the recent belligerent demonstrations of the British Government in this quarter make it important to ask of the General Government to complete the Mars Hill road, and to extend it to the post now occupied by the U. S. troops.

A road from the foot of Moosehead Lake to the head waters of the Allagash, and so down to Fort Kent is suggested. Much has been done by the British in strengthening themselves in their military positions in this State, and towards completing the road through the Madawaska settlement. Other important roads are contemplated by them from the Aroostook to Grand Falls, and to and over the portage from Tamiscouata to the River St. Lawrence. Upon that route the British now have five military stations, four of them within the limits of this State.

Aroostook Road.

The Aroostook road is completed sixty-four miles, and with the river, an easy access is now opened to the settler to the fertile valley of the Aroostook. The authorities of Maine are now enabled to extend their jurisdiction over the townships watered by the Aroostook, and prevent depredations upon the timber. A good account is given of the condition of the settlers on the Aroostook Road.

Survey.

Twelve townships have been surveyed, and the whole explored to ascertain the amount of pine timber. The average amount of pine timber is about four million feet.

Settling Land.

There has been conveyed to settlers twenty-four thousand one hundred and eighty-three acres of land. The Aroostook townships are fast filling up, and this is destined to be the most flourishing agricultural section of the State. An extension of the liberal policy of the State relative to settlers is recommended. The agricultural capacities of the State are clearly shown.

Timber Lands.

No sales of undivided timber lands have been made. Permits to cut timber are issued upon townships heretofore operated upon.

Most of the pine timber belonging to Maine and Massachusetts on the public lands is to be found on the St. John and its tributary streams, and unless arrangements can be made for carrying our lumber on the St. John the settlements in that quarter will progress slowly.

The improvements between Lake Telo and Webster Pond are spoken of as affording the means of conveying the timber on eight townships on the Allagash into the Penobscot. Other improvements are spoken of by which the timber on eight additional townships may also be brought into the Penobscot. The system of selling lands for cash is recommended.

Forfeited Lands.

Several tracts of land were forfeited in 1840, owing to a misapprehension on the part of the owners. Many other tracts, sold on conditional deeds have become forfeit.

Commissioners.

Fifteen applications for relief have been filed in the Land Office and laid before the Commissioners. Three cases dismissed as not coming within the powers delegated. Two cases, the proof unsatisfactory. Three cases, conditional decree made, directing the agent to cancel notes upon the payment of certain sums within a limited time. Five cases, all the notes due the State were ordered to be given up and cancelled, and title to the land confirmed. And in one case, certain amount decreed to be endorsed on note.

The total amount of notes given up $116,719.91

North-Eastern Boundary.

We extract at length what is said upon this subject:

"Having had occasion in the discharge of the duties appertaining to this office, several times to pass over considerable portions of the territory in dispute on our North-Eastern Frontier, between the Governments of the United States and Great Britain, I have thought it proper to say something in relation to this subject, as it is very evident, until this question is settled, a large portion of the disputed territory must remain a wilderness, and its resources locked up."

I can have no doubt that the line of boundary defined by the treaty of 1763, and as contended for by us, is correct, that is, that the due north line from the monument at the head of the St. Croix, should be extended until it reaches the highlands that shed, on one side, the waters running into the St. Lawrence, which will be found near the source of the river Metis.

The General Government having repeatedly by the most solemn acts, recognised this line as the true boundary, there can be no doubt, that eventually, this line would be permanently established, either by negotiation, or as the result of an appeal to arms.

This subject having been a matter of negotiation between the two Governments for many years, without appearing to approximate to any satisfactory result, it is quite apparent, that many years more will elapse, before a conclusion can be reasonably apprehended under the protracted shifts of diplomacy.

At the present day, few nations feel disposed to draw the sword, and demand by force, what is due by right, unless as the last resort, and until it shall be apparent, that no honorable expedient has been left untried.

The question therefore seems to be one of expediency, whether it would be better to await the slow decision of this question, under the action of the General Government, or to examine and see if some new boundary line cannot be agreed upon, without delay, that will be satisfactory to Maine and Massachusetts, and without compromising the honor of the Nation.

From the personal knowledge that I have of this territory, I believe that a new line may be agreed upon, that will be advantageous to both Governments, and by which Maine, in the end, would be acting Governor during the remainder of the year; and the same gentleman is said to be a candidate, in expectancy, for the next nomination for Chief Magistracy.

The Editor of the Woodstock N. B. Telegraph, states that at least two hundred sheep have been destroyed in that vicinity and within a short distance, by wolves. A mail driver was recently closely pursued by a drove of them and barely escaped, and so daring and rapacious are they, that traveling it is supposed, will become dangerous.

The air-tights burst up a little once in a while and sometimes frighten people with slender nerves. The trouble may all be remedied by a little attention in not allowing too great an accumulation of the carburetted hydrogen gas in contact with a flame.

A letter received by a merchant in New York, dated St. Thomas Dec. 22, says the Journal of Commerce, states that "The steamer has just arrived from Jamaica, and brings information that the port of Cartagena is no longer blockaded."

A regular meeting of the Teachers Association, will be held this afternoon, at 2 o'clock at M. Littlefield's school room. A lecture will be delivered by a member. Friends of education are invited to attend.

The soldiers at Hancock Barracks one cold night last week, tried so hard to get up the heat that their Guard House took fire and was entirely consumed.

The snow at Moose River, is said to be three feet upon a level.

The FAMILY COMPANION AND LADIES' MIRROR, December, 1841. Macon, Ga.

This literary periodical from the sunny south, is again upon our table, and with it a fine engraving of Gen. James Oglethorpe, one of the ancient and dearly cherished fathers of that region.

The Poetry of the Bible, by Rev. Thomas Curtis, is continued, and although the articles contain some pleasant reading the subject is drawn out into so fine a thread so provokingly fine, that it is pretty hard enjoying it. There is a good share of wholesome reading in its pages, from some of the best writers in the country.

The fair editor is too skittish, by half the editorial chair has not yet become easy it is her own, and she has no occasion to fear speaking right out, plain and often.

Duren is agent for the Companion.

Finances.

The following extract shows the prosperous condition of the financial affairs of the department:

I am happy to state, that the financial affairs of this department are in a highly prosperous condition, and from present appearances, a large amount will be paid, the ensuing year, into the State Treasury, for the avails of the public lands.

The receipts in the Land Office from all sources, during the past year, have been seventy-two thousand four hundred fifty-one dollars and six cents. The actual expenses of this Office, including liabilities for making roads and surveys, and all the outstanding claims for 1839 and 1840, on account of the past, have been paid, and the sum of forty-one thousand twenty-one dollars and forty-six cents, has been paid into the Treasury, leaving a balance of cash on hand, including the road funds, of five thousand four hundred twenty-five dollars and fifty-four cents.

The receipts for the ensuing year, are estimated at $60,000, to which should be added about $24,000 now due on account of stumpage from logs, cut last winter, but not yet come to market, which will make the aggregate about $100,000, nearly the whole of which, can be paid into the Treasury, as the expenses of this department for the ensuing year will be very small.

The whole expenses of the civil posse, from March 1, 1841, up to this time, is $6,344.47, one half of which is paid by Massachusetts.

Lumbering on the Penobscot.

We published yesterday an article with the above title from the Piscataquis Herald, which struck us at the time of selecting it, as being altogether too high in its estimates, and we intended to express this thought in connexion with the article, but in the press of business, it escaped us.

We are reminded of the subject by the reception of the following article from one fully qualified to form a just estimate of the lumbering business, and we give the article as one, in the estimates of which, the fullest reliance may be placed.

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier:

I noticed an article in your paper of yesterday taken from the Piscataquis Herald, headed Lumbering on the Penobscot. The statements contained in it are calculated to give false impressions, in relation to the quantity of lumber being cut this winter, else I should not have noticed it in this way. The statement, in part, is that there is 500 teams, hauling logs, and the quantity estimated as being cut this winter, at 250 million. The editor of the Herald is entirely unacquainted with the subject, else he would not have made such a statement. I have in my possession a very accurate account of the teams in the forest this winter, and find them to be about 325, and the highest estimate that can be made of the quantity that will be cut in averaging 350 M to the team, making in the aggregate 115 million. Some of the teams may get 5 to 600 M to the team, while others will not get more than 250 M to the team, the greater portion getting the smaller quantity.

Mr. Sewall of Oldtown, introduced an order directing the Committee on Interior Waters to inquire into the expediency of regulating and reducing the tolls of the Penobscot Boom Corporation. The following petitions were presented and referred to appropriate committees.

Petition of Benj. Brown of Samuel Lowder of Lucy Eaton of John Needham of Joseph Goodnow Joshua Coggins of S. B. Cummings of Henry Warren of Oliver Frost of Samuel G. Tuck of Inhabitants of Capen Wagon, and of H. Lombard, et alia. Yours, P.

MAINE LEGISLATURE.

[Augusta Correspondence.]

State House, Augusta,

MONDAY, Jan. 10, 1842.

In the House, Mr. Miller of Lincolnville asked and obtained leave to lay upon the table a bill providing for the election of certain County Officers by the people. This bill is the same in its provisions, as the one which passed the House last winter. Mr. Dunn of Poland, offered a resolve in favor of Daniel Libby which was twice read and passed to be engrossed. The Joint Standing Committees of the Legislature were announced this morning in both branches, and you will see that large majorities of Locos are put on to all the important Committees. Joint Select Committees have been raised on so much of the Governor's Message as relates to the N. E. Boundary, and the public-lands. With regard to the Message of Gov. Fairfield, I have heard but one opinion, and that is of unmeasured censure. I do not believe the Legislature will ever adopt his recommendations in relation to the proceeds of the public lands, or the division of the bank tax from the support of common schools; when the State is in debt nearly two millions of dollars, how absurd it is that the Governor should recommend to refuse to receive from the General Government, nearly one hundred thousand dollars; how will the tax payers like this? You see, the amount which he proposes to refuse, will relieve us of one half of our State tax, and it does seem to me that there is too much good sense yet left in the Legislature to adopt this foolish proposition. In case the Legislature should adopt the recommendation, this amount will be the same as lost to the State, and the people will have to be taxed just so much more than they otherwise would be. I have heard some of the leading Locos denounce, in the severest terms, his recommendation in relation to the Bank tax, and my opinion is, that the Legislature will refuse to sanction it.

Mr. Sewall of Oldtown, introduced an order directing the Committee on Interior Waters to inquire into the expediency of regulating and reducing the tolls of the Penobscot Boom Corporation. The following petitions were presented and referred to appropriate committees.

Petition of Benj. Brown of Samuel Lowder of Lucy Eaton of John Needham of Joseph Goodnow Joshua Coggins of S. B. Cummings of Henry Warren of Oliver Frost of Samuel G. Tuck of Inhabitants of Capen Wagon, and of H. Lombard, et alia. Yours, P.

The Right Movement.

The following proceedings of the Bath Mechanic Association which we find published in the Telegraph, will be read with pleasure. The Resolutions are the result of several evenings discussion.

Whereas, The practice among Mechanics has become very prevalent, at the present day, of employing Apprentices who have left their former masters, without good and sufficient reasons, thus inflicting an injury both upon the master and the apprentice; and whereas the intellectual and moral culture of apprentices, have been too much neglected, and overlooked by Mechanics,

Thus producing and raising up a class of mere novices in the trade, instead of thoroughly scientific Mechanics, therefore.

Resolved, That we will pledge ourselves to make no offer or hold out any inducements whatever, to apprentices to incline them to leave their present masters; but on the contrary, will use our influence to prevail upon them to remain during their minority.

Resolved, That we will pledge ourselves not to employ any apprentice who has left his former master, unless upon examination, we find he has good and sufficient reasons for doing so.

Resolved, That we will endeavor to awaken in our apprentices a thirst for knowledge; and will provide for them suitable means to acquire it.

Resolved, That we will teach our apprentices, to the best of our abilities, not only in the practice of our trade, but also the science upon which its principles are based.

Important movement in Indiana.

In the House a resolution has passed to the second reading, which instructs the Senators and requests the Representatives of the State to Congress, to support the Fiscal plan submitted to Congress on Dec. 21st.

From Yucatan.

The Governor of Yucatan has issued a decree declaring a general pardon to all criminals confined in the prison of the State, for offences other than murder, committed prior to the first of September last, and to all counterband dealers and persons guilty of assault in contraband cases, provided that such crimes should have been perpetrated before the 10th of December, 1840. Fugitive criminals are included in this amnesty, provided they give themselves up within three months from the date of its promulgation.

In the Republic of New Grenada, Colonel Barriga obtained a complete victory over Obando, one of the Southern factionists, who was at the head of 1800 men. A large number of prisoners were taken among them, Gen. Borreto and Col. Caicedo.

The "El Siglo XIX," of Yucatan, of the 10th inst., in remarking on the arrival of the Commissioners from Mexico, says the Yucatans will not yield to the request of the Mexicans, except upon condition that Yucatan shall have its own Legislature to make its municipal laws.

nor even till she learns from Mexico that the constitution of '24 has been fully re-established, and that all the other States may enjoy the same rights. Such is the position of Yucatan as declared by the Government papers, and yet we fear she will again bend the neck to the yoke of Mexican despotism [N. O. Bulletin, Dec. 29]

The vegetable remedy for diseases arising from the impurities of the Blood; Dyspepsia, Scrofula, and all chronic diseases, also a substitute for Calomel as a cathartic in fevers, and all bilious affections.

From this remedy possesses, as is demonstrated in the detailed course of the various complaints, the propriety levels justified in claiming for it superior consideration. The numerous testimonials of its effects from physicians, druggists, and distinguished individuals, places it beyond the doubtful remedies of the day, and entitles it to special confidence.

These Pills have acquired an unprecedented celebrity as an anti-peptic and antidiabetic remedy; and this reputation is fully sustained by the high character of the testimonials and the increasing demand for the Medicine.

It is only necessary for the proprietor to continue the caution, that the public may not mistake other medicines, which are introduced as Tomato preparations, for the true Compound Tomato Pills.

They have no rival in curing bilious diseases, dyspepsia, liver complaints, sick headache, rheumatism, heart burn, acid stomach, palpitation, loss of appetite, costiveness, &c.

Those who wish the genuine Medicine, so highly recommended, entirely vegetable, and prepared by a regularly educated Physician, must be particular to inquire of PHELPS', and see that they are labelled Dr. Phelps' COMPOUND TOMATO PILLS.

For a full account of this medicine, testimonials, &c., see pamphlets in the hands of all who sell it.

None are genuine without the signature of G. R. PHELPS, M.D., solo proprietor, Hartford, Conn.
